

Team Leading and Management Bulletin: June 2010

Changes to vocational qualifications and Apprenticeship Frameworks

This bulletin is designed to give you up-to-date information about the team leading and management qualifications that will be migrated on to the QCF. Additional information will be available over the coming weeks and these bulletins will be updated as that information becomes obtainable. The information will also be posted on our website. Links to the relevant pages are included at the end of this bulletin.

The Management Standards Centre (MSC) has recently updated the NVQ units and qualification structures that are to be accredited on the QCF to commence on 1 August 2010.

We are currently working with the MSC, the Standards Setting Body (SSB) for Management and Leadership, to ensure that all of our qualifications are accredited on the QCF before 1 August 2010. The tables below indicate the latest details regarding the transfer of qualifications on to the QCF for this sector.

An important change to note is that the MSC has decided that all the new Technical Certificates from 2010 will be at least 13 credits and at least 100 Guided Learning Hours (GLH) in size, rather than 30 GLH in the past. This means that all awarding organisations will have to have much larger technical certificates. This decision was made to ensure that the technical certificates are eligible for funding under the new apprenticeship regulations.

Timescales

The NQF qualifications below are all being replaced with QCF qualifications. You may register learners for the NQF versions of these qualifications until 31 July 2010. From 1 August 2010, all new registrations must be for the QCF versions. All of the replacement NVQs for Team Leading and Management have now been accredited on the QCF. They will be operational from 1 August 2010.

We have also taken this opportunity to update our BTEC Team Leading and Management qualifications at all levels, and to ensure that they provide the necessary underpinning knowledge for the new NVQs.

We will be submitting the BTECs for accreditation in June 2010. We expect to receive confirmation of the accreditation in June/July.

At Levels 2 and 3, we have rationalised our provision and nested each award with the corresponding certificate. The certificate at each level will double up as a Technical Certificate for those learners completing an Apprenticeship as well as being available as a freestanding BTEC qualification.

Please note that in the process of being updated, the Level 4 and Level 5 NVQs have been awarded QCF Levels 5 and 7 respectively.
